Summarized Customer Notes

- The current booking system is set up through BookIt, they're a bit stuck with this program and the service categories
- Online booking and pollinator are the 2 main reasons people go to their website
- People typically donate specifically to or through Fridays for Future or Repair Cafe
- Bookly is now paid for, and may work better - we will have to implement better functionality

Ideas that work for Rob:

- Sorting articles by year and making it searchable for volunteers to find themselves in them
- Sitemaps were well received
- Prototypes are generally well received, but may need to be further investigated
- Booking site prototype well received, especially with the layout for aesthetic and information guiding users who view the page, and with making the booking "spot" more visible and higher up in the page
